Mayor Carr updated council on the actions he and Corey Frentress had taken in assessing streets and how they decided on the streets being presented to council for consideration. He asked the council to drive the streets and create a list based off need, starting with the ones in most need of repair. Corey Frentress addressed council on the packet he put together which broke down the needed repairs of each street and cost. He felt the top priority is Garrison Street. Mayor Carr called another special meeting on Monday, Oct. 4, 2021, to sit down with the Jake Lawrence from Government Capital to gain a better understanding of the financial aspects of street project.
